

A. Undirected stays on the real axis;
directed does not ($d = 0.99$)

B. Real rivals land on $\sqrt{\beta}$;
complex ones climb past the winner

C. web-Stanford, $d = 0.99$:
momentum never converges

